LOGIC Commercial Real Estate Expands to Reno, Nevada

LAS VEGAS--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- LOGIC Commercial Real Estate ("LOGIC") is pleased to announce our second office location opening in Reno, NV in May 2018. The office will be led by Vice Presidents Ian Cochran, CCIM, and Greg Ruzzine, CCIM, who will be joined by Brokerage Associate Amanda Lavi and Operations Manager Stephanie Morrison.

"We're excited to be expanding our brand and culture into Northern Nevada. As a 4th generation Nevadan, I have a great love for our state. It has been our goal from LOGIC's inception to grow into other markets, however we would not have this expansion opportunity without great local leadership. Having known Ian and Greg for several years, they best exemplify LOGIC's core values and will further strengthen our service capabilities in the state. LOGIC will be the only majority locally owned, statewide commercial real estate firm, creating an excellent platform for our clients in all things commercial real estate in Nevada."

- Brendan Keating, CEO

Our new office will be located along the corridor that connects Downtown and Midtown. The Midtown market continues to grow, improve, and diversify with new developments, tenants, and investors. Based in the heart of Reno, the office will service the entire Northern Nevada market.

LOGIC Commercial Real Estate is a full-service firm specializing in Brokerage, Property Management, Capital Markets, and Development Services. At LOGIC, we recognize that real estate is a local business. In each office we open, we ensure that we have market leaders who are local to the area. Together with this talented team of real estate professionals, we leverage our statewide knowledge and relationships to provide institutional-quality service and consulting to our clients.

"The culture and energy Brendan and the LOGIC team have created is like no other brokerage firm atmosphere we have experienced. To be around like-minded people who strive for excellence is inspiring and it's clear this drive has created the success and growth they have experienced. We are excited to be part of this great team and continue the growth."

- Ian Cochran, Vice President and Greg Ruzzine, Vice President
